

Debunk the Myths in Investing - Sampler

The market timing described in this book has been proven to detect market plunges and when to reenter the market for the last two plunges. It will detect the next one. Hopefully it will give us enough time to act on the last two. It depends on data, so it will not detect the peaks and bottoms precisely. However, it will spare you for further losses and tell you when to reenter the market for profits. I bet you'll be a better investor by reading one of my books. First start with Debunk the Myths in Investing (aka Myths) and then read Scoring Stocks. They are summarized as: The first book is the foundation of the series Debunk the Myths in Investing (same title as this book). By the time you finish the series, most if not all the topics in investing should have been covered. Myths is quite lengthy with 499 pages and it would lose its focus if Scoring Stocks were part of this book. Other books I continued to write several books with different target audiences and different markets. Many chapters are copied from Myths. The books are: Debunk the Myths in Investing for Couch Potatoes. This is a simplified version of Myths with stock analysis taken out. When we do not have time to analyze stocks, buy ETFs and / or sector funds. Market timing is included. The following two books could make an alternate series together with Scoring Stocks. It competes with books with similar book titles. Market Timing: Profitable, Predictable and Protective. If you have Myths or Myths for Couch Potatoes, currently you do not need this book. Finding Stocks: Screens and Strategies. It has several new chapters such as monitoring and ranking the performances of screens. A Nation of No Losers. It is a political satire on USA and China. Last Update: 02/2016 Size: 75 pages (6*9)
